OMJ LIMITED STATEMENT UNDER THE MODERN SLAVERY ACT 2015 FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR 2023/2024

This statement is made pursuant to Section 54 of The Modern Slavery Act 2015 and sets out our approach to ensuring that slavery and human trafficking is not taking place in our supply chains or in any other part of our business.

This statement relates to our financial year 2023 / 2024 with our financial year ending 30 April 2024.

About OMJ Limited

With our office based at Enniskillen, Northern Ireland, OMJ Limited provides live oil prices, news and analysis to companies globally.

The company must comply with local legislation and regulations. We are committed to operating with integrity and respect for human rights is embedded within our Ethical Trading Policy. We recognise that our reputation for high ethical standards and social performance is a key factor in our overall success within the Oil industry.

Our Supply Chain

We maintain supply relationships with suppliers and customers who are recognised within our industry as being economically, environmentally and socially responsible. We expect our suppliers and customers to obey national and international standards that require them to treat workers and employees fairly, to provide a safe working environment and to protect the quality of the working environment.

We have a zero-tolerance policy to human trafficking and slavery. Any allegations of practices running contrary to our values and ethics will be investigated and may result in suppliers or customers being required to take corrective action or in serious cases contracts being terminated with offending suppliers or customers.

As part of our initiative to identify and mitigate risk we are in the process of assessing potential risk areas. In the coming financial year, we will also be dedicating further time and resources to training employees to increase awareness of the legal requirements and our business policies relating to slavery and human trafficking.
